PRETTY HOME WEDDING

RUTH WILLIAMS AND ALONZO RIFENBERICK WED AND LEAVE FOR 'FRISCO

A simple home wedding but a very pretty one was the marriage of Miss Ruth Williams and Alonzo Rifenberick, which was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Williams, 128 West Maple street, Wednesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. W. E. Edmonds was the officiating clergyman, using the double ring service, and the ceremony took place in a charming floral arbor of asparagus fern and Golden Glow. Miss Olive Williams and Paul R. Williams, brother and sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and best man, and the bride was "given in marriage" by her father. Little Harriet Rich, cousin of the groom, made a charming flower girl, and Miss Anna Whitaker played the Lohengrin Wedding March and as a prelude to the ceremony a medley of airs from Il Trovatore. White net over satin constituted the wedding gown of the bride, her attendants being garbed in pink.

After congratulations had been tendered by the friends assembled, who were limited to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, a wedding supper was served and after Mrs. Rifenberick had exchanged her white gown for a brown traveling suit the young people left for San Francisco, where they will make their home, and install the beautiful gifts they received from their many friends.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Williams, Raymond Williams, Mrs. Olive A. Wilson, grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Grace Troy, Mrs. Jennie M. Ray, Paul and Olive Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rifenberick, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rich and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rifenberick, Mrs. J. E. Rifenberick, grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Rodna Jacobs of Alhambra.

INFORMATION WANTED

Mrs. Charles A. Perry, of 111 N. Louise street, is seeking information in regard to Robert Shirley, who has been with the U. S. Army in Siberia and who is said to be a Glendale young man. He was to have been demobilized at Vancouver some time ago and she has reason to think he is the bearer of messages from her brother-in-law, Walter Perry, who is in Siberia. Any person having knowledge of this young man will confer a favor on Mrs. Perry by communicating with her. Mrs. Perry is circulating a petition to be presented to the War Department asking for the return of American boys sent to Siberia.

Mrs. G. W. Harrison of San Francisco is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. E. Patch, and her sister, Mrs. Cleo Hartley, of 125 North Belmont. She expects to stay a month or more and will take trips with her relatives to mountain and beach resorts.

CHURCH NIGHT SUPPER AND PRAYER MEETING

The Church Night Committee at Central Christian certainly surpassed themselves last evening in the menu they spread before the more than 40 people present. It consisted of breast of lamb stewed with rice and pearl onions, vegetable salad in whole tomatoes, bread and butter, summer squash prepared with cracker crumbs, milk and butter, coffee, tea and orange ice. After the supper there was a season of fellowship and then the prayer meeting was held, with Mrs. Ben Bolen as leader. This was very helpful to the goodly number present and it was considered by all an evening well spent.

TRAPPED BY STRIKE

J. E. PECK EN ROUTE FOR CALIFORNIA LIKELY TO BE STRANDED ON THE ROAD

Charles H. Peck, the jeweler, is in a peck of trouble over the predicament of his son, J. E. Peck, the ranch owner and cattle breeder of the Imperial Valley, who went east several weeks ago to attend sales of highly-bred stock and also to take a summer course in the Agricultural Department of the State University at Madison, Wisconsin. He is now ready to return to California and has written his wife who has been the guest of her husband's parents, to meet him in Sacramento where he goes to attend the State Fair, but with the railroad tie-up there is a possibility neither Mrs. Peck nor her husband may be able to get to Sacramento. The jeweler was canvassing the possibilities of auto travel if worse came to worst.

STRIKE SIDE LIGHTS

A. G. SPOHR AND SIDNEY BROWNE REPORT INCIDENTAL EFFECTS OF RAILWAY TIE-UP

When asked whether the railroad strike was affecting his business in any way, Mr. Spohr, the druggist, declared that it certainly was. The most noticeable effect was manifest in the responses received from Los Angeles wholesalers to orders placed by him. He has been notified that on account of the shortage of their stocks due to failure to receive freight consignments they can allow him only about 25 per cent of his requisitions.

"Will this affect in any way your soda fountain business?" was inquired.

"Most certainly, yes," he replied "I placed an order for 500 pounds of sugar, of which I use great quantities, and was told I could have only 200 pounds."

Sidney Browne, of the Henry-Browne Beverage Company, reports that his concern has also suffered by the P. E. strike through inability to get normal supplies of bottles which are manufactured at Vernon. The process requires the work of a night shift which has been unable to go on duty because of the night cars being taken off. The factory has therefore been obliged to shut down. The Sierra Company has plenty of sugar for immediate needs, but on inquiring as to future supplies one company with which it has been dealing informed Mr. Browne it could fill no orders for two or three weeks, another stated it could furnish only two of the sixty bags ordered. However, on this score he is not worrying because a friendly cannery of the valley which has big stocks of the same grade of sugar that the Sierra Company uses, has agreed to help out if the need becomes acute.

Mr. Browne says he cannot be thankful enough that he is not dealing in a perishable product after visiting San Fernando and learning the experience of a big cannery which had cars of peaches stalled on the tracks a long distance up the valley. Trucks were sent for the fruit, but by the time it reached the cannery it was soft and had to be put into the pie cans instead of being turned out as the high grade product it was expected to yield. While it is disappointing not to be able to turn out the maximum product of the factory after the delays they have experienced in connection with the installation of machinery, Mr. Browne accepts the situation philosophically and says his firm will meet this emergency as it has others without wasting time in vain regrets.

SALT LAKE OFFICIAL CONTRACTS FOR NEW HOME

F. W. Pigg recently sold a lot on North Louise, between California avenue and Lexington Drive, to Frank Adams, of Los Angeles, District Freight Agent of the Salt Lake Railway and contracted to build him a beautiful 6-room bungalow on it, with every modern convenience. The price of lot and building is $6300. Mr. Adams is very much impressed with Glendale as a residence city and will move out as soon as his home is ready for him.

ELECTIVE WORK

NEW COURSES ARRANGED FOR INTERMEDIATE ARE ADAPTABLE TO BENT OF PUPILS

For some time Richardson D. White, Superintendent of City Schools, has believed that our curriculums should be more elastic particularly as they approach the High School work and students begin to show individual tastes and aptitudes. With that thought in mind he submitted to the county authorities suggestions for seventh and eighth grade courses which would provide for certain units of work in essentials which would be compulsory, the other units to be elective and divided as per the schedule furnished, the week's work being reckoned as 35 periods of 40 minutes each.

This plan which is calculated to fit the course to the pupil within certain limits instead of the reverse, met with favor from the school authorities and Mr. White was given permission to put it into effect. To that end he has prepared an outline of the course for the Intermediate showing compulsory and elective work which he is sending to parents under date of September 1st requesting them to call at the school during the week and arrange programs for their children.

The course calls for compulsory work in seventh grade under seven

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Three thousand steel workers have walked out on strike and only with difficulty are union officials restraining other organized steel workers from doing likewise, according to Gilbert H. Sharpe, business agent of the Cleveland Blacksmiths' Union. Differences regarding wage-working conditions caused the walk-out, Sharpe said. Twelve thousand steel workers are clamoring to strike with or without authority.

BRANCH OFFICES

HENRY R. HARROWER STATES THEY WILL BE ESTABLISED IN CHICAGO AND NEW YORK

Dr. Henry R. Harrower announces the opening of branch offices in Chicago and New York. The Chicago office is to be under the management of A. Rickart, who has been with Dr. Harrower for some time and who was in the United States Indian service for a number of years. He and his wife and children will leave for his new post as soon as railway conditions permit. L. W. Sturdevant will be manager of the New York office. He was formerly head nurse at the Glendale Sanitarium and he and his wife and little son will soon start for the east and will possibly visit in Indiana and Ohio on the way.

Dr. Harrower goes east as soon as the trains are running to superintend the opening of these branch offices and to direct the publication of a medical work he has recently finished.

The doctor is much delighted with the prints from photographs he took during his recent automobile tour at Yosemite, Crater Lake and other scenic points. A number of them have been enlarged and a public exhibit is to be made of them for the pleasure of friends and acquaintances.

CORP. HILL McGILLIS IN U. S. A.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis, of 1003 East Lomita avenue are in receipt of a telegram from their son, Corporal Hill McGillis, announcing his arrival on this side of the Atlantic from overseas and his temporary assignment to Camp Merritt. They figure that army red tape will probably require his presence at that camp for about a week and are hoping that by the time the week is over train service will be resumed and that he will be sent to this coast for demobilization and discharge. He has been in the postal express service and has been one busy boy. Also he has been on the job for a long enough time to receive three gold service stripes. He and Owen Dibbern and Joe Wilson were together all through the early months of service, but Joe and Owen were ordered home some time ago. Owen is now in an army hospital in San Francisco though not seriously disabled. Joe Wilson has not reached Glendale either. It is not unlikely that all three young men will arrive about the same time.

STOLEN AUTO FOUND

V. M. HOLLISTER'S MACHINE LOCATED IN FOOTHILL CANYON, STRIPPED OF ACCESSORIES

V. M. Hollister is again in possession of his car and has an increased respect for the Auto Club of Southern California because through its agency his stolen car was located the afternoon after the loss had been reported, viz., Tuesday. It was found in a canyon back of Pasadena practically stripped of everything removable. The engine was undamaged and the company with which Mr. Hollister had insured it immediately replaced the missing tires and accessories. The owner was therefore without it for a very short time.

CONSIDERING MUNICIPAL WATER PLANT

South Pasadena has started proceedings for a municipal water plant. The first move was made last Monday night by the city council, when it was voted to employ a civil engineer to furnish a valuation on the physical properties of the three water systems of the city. If this valuation is considered reasonable, an election will be called to vote on issuing bonds for the purchase of the systems. A straw vote had been taken previously on the proposition resulting in 876 for and 294 against.

BOLD THEFT OF AUTO

D. B. Pingree and wife and her mother drove down to Hermosa Sunday in the Chevrolet and parked it in a public place while they went down on the beach for an hour. When they returned to where the car had been it was gone, with a very valuable overcoat and important papers. Mr. Pingree at once notified the authorities and the missing car was found in a wash near Whittier on Monday, completely stripped. Tires, rims, batteries, cushions, even the footboard, had been removed and little but the chassis remained. Luckily, Mr. Pingree was insured so his net loss was in the overcoat and other articles of value taken.

NEW STUDIO

MESDAMES JESSIE COOKSEY AND HELEN MacMULLIN TAKE POSSESSION

Mrs. Jessie Cooksey and Mrs. Helen MacMullin are taking possession of the studio erected for them by W. P. MacMullin and getting settled in the two apartments which the building provides in addition to the studio proper. On the north side is the suite occupied by Mrs. Cooksey which includes a kitchenette and bath, her living room opening onto the fine big operating room which is not only illuminated with the best of north light, and with a variety of screens to modify it as desired, but is also equipped with a special electric lighting system which will likewise provide all degrees of light. It is also equipped with the new spot lights so popular in motion picture work. The operating room and apartments are reached from a central corridor leading from the handsome reception room which opens onto Brand boulevard. Opposite the operating room in the rear are work room and specially equipped dark room with ample facilities for washing films, provided also with both hot and cold water. There, too, is the printing machine in which electric light takes the place of the sunlight on which photographers formerly had to rely. The rear of the corridor opens upon a roomy porch which is to be fitted with rugs and easy chairs and to have an outlook upon the garden into which the back yard will be converted after garages have been built.

Interest naturally centers on the reception room the walls of which have been papered in neutral grayish tones which make a pleasant background for the red of the mahogany furnishings. At the right of the reception room are attractive dressing rooms for the use of sitters.

Between the reception room and the workroom on the south side is the suite of rooms which Mr. and Mrs. MacMullin will occupy with their daughter, Miss MacMullin having quarters on the opposite side of the corridor.

It is an excellent location for a studio and in its furnishings and its equipment for the production of high class artistic work is said to be second to none in Southern California. It will be opened for business September 1st and a public reception will be given later.

EVERYBODY WORKING BUT STRIKERS

The unprecedented business boom of the past few months has made it difficult for business men to keep their quota of clerks filled. Four grocery houses have advertised for clerks or drivers within the past week, in the Evening News and the manager of one of them said that heretofore an ad brought a long line of applicants, but that now they were few and far between. Certainly there is little if any excuse for a man to be out of work now.

MANY SPEEDERS FINED

Motor cops have been getting after speeders with a vengeance in South Pasadena, recently. Fines of $10 to $15 were assessed in eight cases one day. Two men staged a race on Fair Oaks avenue, a very busy street, and were caught in the act. One young lady driver was among the victims. Thirty-five miles an hour was the average speed of the offenders on a street where 15 miles was the limit.

GLENDALE MEN ACQUIRE BUSINESS IN BURBANK

O. W. Tarr and Chas. Kausen of Glendale have acquired the auto-top and upholstering business of E. Meinert, Burbank, and will add to the business a sub-agency for the sale of Chevrolet cars for O. A. Fish of Glendale, the handling of used autos and a general real estate business. We are sorry to lose these two good citizens from our business circles, but it is no doubt a good opening for them.

GOOD NEWS FROM SON

Great happiness has come to Mrs. Hyer, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Perry, of 111 North Louise street. She has received word that her son, First Lieutenant Randall Hyer, who was reported "among the missing," is alive and is on his way home to Glendale. He was with a machine gun corps and went over the top twice, being wounded in action. In spite of the good news time will drag with her until he gets here.

INDEPENDENCE IN THOUGHT AND ACTION

In these days of so many political, financial and social upheavals it becomes still more evident every day that one qualification that men of the present day need is that of being independent in thought and action. We look back to the days of Washington with great pride and point out the superior qualities of the signers of the constitution of the United States and even in the time of the civil war we are able to refer with a great degree of pride to Lincoln, Grant and others who possessed that characteristic of Washington and his colleagues as being independent in thought and action.

Conditions show that men are becoming spineless and are slow to form an opinion and when they do form one they are just as slow to make a public expression of it. There are many wrongs in this world that are known to be actual wrongs and yet for policy's sake men will not oppose them for fear of losing a few dollars or if an office seeker for fear of failing to get the support of those who are guilty of the wrong.

A few days ago when the Pacific Electric employes went out on a strike and in some instances those walking out interfered with conveniences of the traveling public there was hardly a man in Glendale but knew that these men were pursuing a wrong course but there were few who had the courage to come out and publicly denounce such action.

It should make no difference whether it is the employer or the employe who is found to be absolutely indifferent to the fair treatment of the public their actions should be denounced. For a man to have the courage of his convictions and form opinions aright and then give fearless expression to them does not mean that he is a man who will eternally be in opposition to corporations or to employes. It does mean that he is a man who favors a square deal for everybody and is not afraid to let his position be known on the question under consideration.

The public has certain rights which should be respected. The development of our country is due to the perseverance of the masses of the people. It is their money that has aided in building up the country and bringing into existence modern conveniences, and for any set of men, whether they be rich or poor, whether they be stockholders or employes to band themselves together and deprive the public of the use of the telephone, the electric cars and other utilities, is wrong and deserves the censure of everybody who has been instrumental in bringing about all of these improvements which we have a right to enjoy without restrictions being placed upon us by any class of people.

Now, good citizens of Glendale, let us have sufficient back-bone and courtesy to go out of our way to thank the men who remained at their post of duty during the recent P. E. strike, not entirely because these men were loyal to the company by which they were employed, but because they did a grand and great service for the public.

At the outbreak of the strike the executives of every city within its jurisdiction and the executive of the State of California exhibited a lack of real initiative and courage when they failed to come out promptly and boldly in protecting the people's rights. Of course the excuse might be made that it was not within their jurisdiction, but is it not a fact that the men who have done the greatest things for their country have taken the initiative and established precedents that ever after proved their wisdom. To have the portraits of Washington and Lincoln hanging on our walls does not make us a patriotic and law-enforcing people. What is needed more than these portraits is the real pep and courage when it comes to a need of doing things. There are excellent opportunities presented every day far a man to take the part of a Washington or a Lincoln, even if it be in a small way.

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING?

If there was ever a time in the history of the country when all the people should apply moderation and wise judgment in their action and talk, it is right now. The country is passing through a very critical period. With the feeling of unrest that prevails the little sparks we see and hear on every side may develop into a catastrophe that will rock the very foundation of our government.

Profiteering has reached a point where it is no longer bearable. Wages and the cost of living are not commensurate. The laborer is demanding an increased wage and at the same time he is demanding a reduction in the cost of commodities he buys.

This, it would seem, is a division of effort. Why not direct all energies toward one end, and that reducing the cost of living? In most cases wages are higher now than they have been for many years and the purchasing value of the dollar is less. If every person from the producer to the consumer would be satisfied with a fair profit, there would be no occasion for strikes.

The trouble is every man is profiteering off his fellow men. If he pays a certain percentage more for an article, when he offers the same article for sale he not only adds the increase he paid for it, but charges a profit on that increase. When an article changes hands several times before it reaches the ultimate consumer he has paid several increased profits on each man's profit and has good reason for making complaint and asking for readjustment somewhere.

Employers and employes should get together; take up their problems and harmonize their interests. Pulling in opposite directions will not get either of them anywhere. The employer should realize them before it is too late; and the same is true of the employe.

Unless they get together and settle their differences as men of reason and judgment there will soon be a condition in the country bordering on anarchy or Bolshevism.

—South Pasadena Courier.

Some one who is trying to tie up transportation gives as his reason for the act that the object is to bring down the cost of living,—meaning that stored articles should be released and thus cheapen products on the market. Everyone admits that it is right to use all means available to prevent profiteering, even to the extent of severe punishment for those found guilty. Because profiteering is wrong does not offer an excuse for any class of people to become lawbreakers too. Two wrongs can never make a right.

BUSINESS HOUSES NEARLY ALL TAKEN

There never was a time when Glendale's business rooms, as well as residences, were so nearly all occupied, as at present. Even those considered undesirable have been snapped up by eager renters, and real estate dealers are having the profitable time of their lives. It is likely that more business buildings will be erected soon, to keep pace with the new residences.

GARDEN PLOWING BY TRACTOR?

A rather odd situation is confronting city residents who wish to have small gardens, either in back yards or on vacant lots. The auto truck is fast displacing the horse until it is becoming too expensive to keep plowing teams. They will eventually disappear altogether it is thought and then what will the small gardener do? Don't worry, for by that time some genius will have invented a baby tractor that most anybody can afford, or at least enough contractors can own them to plow all the gardens.

STILL SOME BACON ON HAND

City Clerk Sherer informs the Evening News that there are still several hundred pounds of government bacon on hand at 37 cents a pound. It was brought out as an accommodation to our people and has been eagerly snapped up in short order wherever on sale. Every pound of it should be bought by Glendale citizens. If you want some, apply at the City Manager's office, in the City Hall, at once.

MANY CHANGES ON VINE ST.

Vine street is almost a new community, so many have been the changes in residence. Many of the houses have been sold, and at once occupied by the new owners and there are new occupants in most of the rental properties. One resident who recently returned from a month's absence stated that she hardly knew her own street when she got back.

Mrs. Viola Wright and her daughter, Mrs. Harold Salisbury, are spending the week at the beach.

Mrs. Lyda Border of 217 North Louise street, who has been in Long Beach for several weeks, is expected home the last of the week.

Mrs. Walter McManus, Jr., and son, Walter, of 515 West Doran street, are enjoying the pleasures of Catalina for an indefinite period.

Rev. E. H. Willisford arrived at home from his month's vacation at Ocean Park this morning and the family will arrive this afternoon.

Lee L. Payne, of 946 North Louise street, is digging out instead of digging up these days. He has improved his home by adding a cement preserve cellar.

Gilbert A. Cowan, who had been absent from Glendale since last February, being employed on several papers in the South and Middle West, returned home, Thursday morning.

Mrs. A. W. Dow, Mrs. Robert Blackburn and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett were recent guests of Mrs. John Robt. White at her beach home at Hermosa. The Whites expect to return to Glendale the first of September.

Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Emick of 229 North Maryland are moving to their new home in Los Angeles. Mr. Emick has abandoned his intention of going east on account of the uncertainties of transportation.

Two good attractions are near at hand on the bills of the Palace Grand, viz.: Charley Ray in "Hayfoot, Strawfoot" on Saturday, and Marguerite Clark in "Girls" for the Monday program—Labor Day.

The last news Mrs. John Cotton had from her husband was to the effect that he was in the Pyrenees Mountains and having a wonderful scenic trip, also a very busy one making sketches for the Y. M. C. A. records.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jensen have returned from Catalina. It was crowded with pleasure seekers, but there seemed some anxiety to get home on account of strike conditions and he thought more people were coming away than were arriving.

W. P. MacMullin and family moved Wednesday into the beautiful apartment they had constructed especially for them in the new brick building at 217 North Brand, where the Cooksey-MacMullin studio is located.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Mangum and Mrs. E. K. Harris have returned from Redondo Beach where they spent several weeks and where they had a very good time. They were at Redondo during the stay of the fleet and so had an excellent chance to see it.

W. W. Dutton of 129 Los Feliz Road, his wife and daughter Jessie left by auto Wednesday morning for Grant Park with the intention of stopping en route at Porterville to see relatives. They are expected home the last of the week.

Rev. and Mrs. Almona B. Smart will receive their friends informally in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary August 30th, at their home, 110 Olive street, from two to five. Members of the W. C. T. U. and missionary societies and all other friends are cordially invited.

Miss Olive Jones and her mother, who have been spending the summer at Santa Monica, have returned to their home at 1034 San Rafael Ave. It was occupied by Mr. Kendall, director of the Palace Grand orchestra, during their absence. They have now moved nearer to the theatre.

Dr. and Mrs. I. L. Smith have sold their home at 311 North Kenwood street to R. F. Kitterman, who recently purchased an interest in the First National Bank. Mr. Kitterman will take possession at once. Dr. and Mrs. Smith will return to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Shives Mitchell and baby son, Billie, have been guests this week of Mrs. Ella Richardson, of Riverside Drive and Central avenue. They fortunately timed their start to catch the last train before the steam cars stopped running. Mrs. Richardson is congratulating herself on having all the members of her family around her now except her son Burt.

Anticipating that his mother, Mrs. J. H. Flower, and his sister, Annie May Flower, will arrive in San Francisco today from New Zealand, Jesse Flower left Wednesday morning to motor to the Bay City to meet them and bring them to Glendale. Mrs. Flower has been gone for several months and will have interesting experiences to describe. Mr. Flower is hustling to prepare a home for them.

H. B. Higgenbotham and wife of Antwerp, Ohio, who have been in Glendale for a year, visiting their daughter, Mrs. Paul Neer, and R. M. Jackson and wife, old friends, have their return tickets bought and expected to start for home early in the week, but were prevented by the strike. Their daughter is now trying to persuade them to stay in Glendale permanently.

REV. SNUDDEN'S PLANS UPSET

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. B. Dudley Snudden are wondering whether they will be able to carry out their itinerary now that strikes have upset everybody's calculations. He had arranged with Mrs. Snudden to meet him at Yellowstone Park Wednesday, but before it was time for her to leave train service was interrupted by the strike. Whether he will be able to cross the continent and make the journey through the park alone, or whether he will wait until railroad travel resumes, it not yet known. Mr. Snudden is on the program of the First Methodist Church of this city to preach morning and evening Sunday, September 14th, and tell of his overseas experiences. He may be prevented from meeting that engagement.

POPULAR SONGS BY GRAND OPERA STARS

Columbia has several popular songs sung by great operatic artists this month. Riccardo Stracciari has sung "The Sunshine of Your Smile." His interpretation, added to the universal appeal of this widely popular love song, makes this an exceptional record.

Another great opera star who has made records of two old favorites for Columbia this month is Barbara Maurel. Everyone knows "Kathleen Mavourneen" and "Love's Old Sweet Song." Now everyone has a chance to hear them sung as they ought to be sung. Maurel puts all the heart, the feeling, the intensity into these songs which is inherent in the music, but which she brings out in the fullest degree.

Sascha Jacobsen, the world-famous violinist, has shown Columbia what he can do with a popular air. "Dear Old Pal of Mine" made a hit months ago. Its yearning notes lend themselves particularly to the expressiveness of a violin. On the reverse Jacobsen plays Victor Herbert's dainty "Serenade."

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Beginning next Tuesday, September 2d, the liner and want ad department of the Evening News will receive the special attention of one person all of the time. That the new manager of this department may have a clean slate to begin with, all back accounts for liner advertising should be settled for at once, and after September 2d no accounts will be allowed to run unpaid. 303t3*

WALLACE CRAMER

RETURNS TUESDAY SOUND OF LIMB AND LOOKING FINE—WANTS TO FORGET WAR

Mrs. Lorena Cramer, of 631 East Acacia avenue, is a relieved and happy mother, for her son, Wallace Cramer, reached home from overseas Tuesday evening at 5:30, after having received his discharge at San Francisco. He was fortunately able to leave the Bay City Saturday night which carried him as far as Bakersfield before the strike was declared. From there he made the journey by auto stage.

Mrs. Cramer says he looks fine although he declares he has lost some flesh from "lying around since the armistice was signed." But she is not criticising his appearance and feels she cannot be thankful enough that he is sound and whole. In the midst of the general rejoicing over his arrival Mrs. Cramer's little granddaughter voiced the situation when she said: "Now you won't have to worry or cry any more, grandma."

Thus far Wallace has not yielded to solicitations to tell of his experiences, saying: "The war is over now and I don't want to talk about it." With his occupation as a soldier gone, he is restless like his comrades and will probably soon return to the position he held with the Standard Oil before the war. His mother says that years count with that corporation and that every man who has been with it ten years receives a service button. Positions have been held open for all employes who entered the army or navy and their service there has been counted to their credit the same as though they had remained on the pay-roll here. He is likely to be located in either Taft or Bakersfield.

CHILD TOILERS

Rev. O. P. Rider is away for his annual outing but the Tropico Presbyterian Church is not taking a vacation and Wednesday evening a most interesting session was provided at the prayer meeting which was in charge of the Women's Missionary Society and led by Mrs. Richardson. Following the devotional exercises there was a pageant directed by Mrs. Will Hillman representing the child toilers of the world. Mrs. Hillman was assisted by Miss Ethel Shaul, who sang a couple of songs, Miss Helena Richardson presiding at the piano.

The larger girls who took part were Ruth Goldsborough, who represented love, Evelyn Hornung (greed), Elaine Hornung (joy) and Margaret Brown (playtime pleasures). Then there were the little workers of the world personated by Eugene and Dick Hillman, Constance and Jean Angier, Stuart Richardson, Charlotte Goldsborough and Mary and Ruth Gotow. All the little folks were dressed in work costumes patched and faded and they looked pathetically like the children of the very poor who have few pleasures.

CLAUD ARNETT AND FAMILY HERE

The last one of the five sons sent to the service of their country in the army or navy by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Arnett of 311 North Jackson street, reached their home with his wife and baby Wednesday night. After landing in New York and receiving his discharge Claud Arnett got across the continent and as far south as Santa Barbara where he and his family were left stranded by the railroad strike. But the Arnett family did not let a little thing like that keep him from them. They went after him by auto and are now rejoicing over his presence and that of the two other boys who are with them. To send five and have all return sound and well is a remarkable record for which Mr. and Mrs. Arnett are deeply grateful to Divine Providence.

PROFITEERING RAMPANT

The profiteering spirit is not confined to big business by any means. It crops out in all walks of life when given a chance. The strike marooned hundreds of Santa Fe passangers at Barstow, 145 miles from Los Angeles. Some auto owners demanded $20 per passenger for bringing them to Los Angeles. Six or seven passengers at $20 each would be rather good pay for a two days' trip. Of course, the very persons who could afford to pay such a price preferred to stay at a hotel indefinitely and those who could not afford to pay hotel fares were unable to meet such exorbitant transportation demands.

Dr. and Mrs. Colin Cable are entertaining tonight at dinner informally, Mrs. Frank Weigel of St. Louis, Mo., her sister and niece, Mrs. Helen Bennett and Miss Gertrude Bennett of Manhattan Place, and Mrs. J. H. Emerson of West Forty-First street, Los Angeles.

Miss Lois Duncan was entertained Tuesday at a luncheon given in her honor by Miss Mildred Woodworth of Los Angeles. The guest list included girl friends with whom she had been associated in taking the Kindergarten Course at Normal School.

Will the person advertising several weeks ago for a lost three-months-old black and white, prettily-marked kitten call at 332 North Orange and claim the same?

STRIKE MAY CUT H. C. L.

An unusual and unexpected result of the strike may be a reduction in the price of many commodities. As California exports many articles of food to other states, the tie-up of freight service will hold such things at home, and the increased supply will automatically reduce the price. On the other hand, a few articles that are habitually imported may be raised in price temporarily.

FOOL THE HENS

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT IN POULTRY HOUSES ADVOCATED BY AN EXPERT

Considerable fun has been poked at advocates of electrically lighted poultry houses by newspaper paragraphers and others who declared it was an imposition on the hen to fool her into believing night was day and thus make her do double duty in egg laying. But that there is really merit in the plan for the purpose of better care and systematic feeding, thereby stimulating egg production, is clearly set forth by James E. Rice, Professor of Poultry Husbandry at Cornell University, in the following statement:

One of the most sensational developments of modern poultry husbandry is the discovery that by the use of artificial light as an aid to feeding and activity, the distribution of egg production throughout the year can be radically changed. So great is the change and so certain the results when artificial light is properly applied to the right kind of stock in conjunction with proper methods of feeding, that it is destined to revolutionize egg production and the market egg receipts. It will have the double effect of (1) materially increasing the production and hence the market receipts of the fall and early winter eggs and, (2) proportionately decreasing the production and receipts during the spring and early summer months. This will be a benefit both to the producer and to the consumer, since it will have a tendency to distribute the production and prices more uniformly throughout the year. A larger supply of fresh eggs in the fall and winter and less eggs at higher than normal prices in the spring and summer will have a tendency to increase consumption, due to a better quality of eggs and less extremes in the prices.

These changes to be brought about by the use of artificial light, although important, are likely to be gradual, due to the fact that the great bulk of our egg supply is produced by farm flocks which are kept as a side line. This implies that artificial light will be used extensively at first, mostly by the large commercial poultry producers, who are largely responsible for the supply of fresh eggs during the normal season of scarcity and high prices. The experiments which the college has carried on in the use of artificial light indicate that for the person who is willing to assume the comparatively small amount of extra time and expense of installing a lighting system and who is able to handle it properly, there are several distinct advantages to be secured, namely: A larger proportion of high-priced eggs, a larger number of eggs per hen per year, a smaller amount of feed and other expenses required to produce a dozen eggs, and better general health of the stock.

SPEND YOUR VACATION IN THE NATIONAL FORESTS

Many attractive building spots in the National forests of the West are open for lease by the summer home enthusiast, announces the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, which says also that information regarding permits for summer home sites will be furnished gladly by Forest officers. Requests for information should be made to the nearest office of the Forest Service, or can be sent to headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The Forest Service is endeavoring to bring the wonderful vacation resources of the national forests in the East, as well as in the West, to the wider attention of the general public and to induce many more hundreds of thousands each year to visit these natural playgrounds. Unexcelled opportunities for tramping, camping, motoring and fishing are offered to visitors at no cost whatever for the privilege. There are a few restrictions on the use of the forests by the public—just enough to protect public property.

Go into the forests this year if you can, says the Forest Service, or else put such a trip on your vacation schedule for next year.

You have been motoring—or wagoning, or walking, or otherwise proceeding—along a fairly good road with nothing to indicate that it would not continue fairly good, and then you have run suddenly into an impassable place, mired down, and had 17 assorted samples of hades getting out. Everybody else has had the same experience—road maps to the contrary notwithstanding. The road map is a good thing, but it shows what the road used to be, not necessarily as it is. Roads change—mighty rapidly, sometimes. A downpour of rain and the road is washed out; a night of snow, and it is cluttered up beyond passing—though it may have been perfect yesterday. If there were some way of knowing what the road is today, of reading it on a card or map like you do the weather, for instance—

Well, that is one of the new things that the United States Department of Agriculture is undertaking to arrange for you. Henceforth, the weather bulletins will show road conditions. The work was begun by the Weather Bureau as an aid to winning the war. At first the service applied merely to motor transportation in some Eastern States. Then the demand for it became pretty general and very insistent. So, without any special appropriation to take care of it, the Weather Bureau is undertaking in certain States to add daily news of road conditions to its other services. The work can not be perfected all at once. Dependence will have to be placed, for a while, on free information from localities. But the service will be given to the fullest extent possible this year.

"GOSPEL OF THE FULL CAN" FOR COMMERCIAL CANNERS

The "gospel of the full can" is being preached this year to commercial canners by the United States Department of Agriculture through its Bureau of Chemistry, which enforces the Federal food and drugs act, commonly called the "pure food law."

Inspectors of the Bureau of Chemistry will visit personally as many of the canneries this season as they can reach. They advise that all cans of food should be packed as full as practicable without injury to quality. They also advise housewives and other purchasers to note the relative amounts of solids and liquids in the cans they buy and to give preference to the products of firms that seem to want to give a square deal to the home l.der. Examinations of a large number of cans put up by different firms reveal a wide divergence in this particular.

The Bureau of Chemistry specialists have made investigations to determine exactly how much solid food—food from which the liquid has been drained—may be put up in the cans of different sizes in common use without in any way injuring the quality of the product. A certain amount of liquid, which varies with the different products, is necessary. The addition of more liquid than is necessary results in less food in the can, makes an inferior product, wastes shipping and storing space, and is unfair to the consumer. An honest pack promotes fair dealing, and conserves containers and food.

Cull oranges, lemons and grapefruit which were formerly wasted are now turned into many useful products developed by the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, which is conducting experimental work in the citrus by-products laboratory at Los Angeles, Calif.

The problem of how to utilize economically the cull and waste fruit became more acute each year with the development of the large orange and lemon groves of California and Florida. Fruit which is too small or too large, unsightly or mis-shapen, can not be sold profitably for food. Some fruit is not fit for shipment because of minor defects, such as small bruises, or punctures from thorns or gravel or rough boxes, since such defects become points of infection for bacterial and fungous growths which cause decay. The amount of waste fruit averages from year to year about 3 per cent of the total crop.

heads for periods as follows: Penmanship and spelling 5 periods per week, history 5, English and reading 6, geography 4, arithmetic 5, assembly 1, study 1 or 2. These requirements foot up to 27 or 28 periods. To fill out the week of 35 periods the following electives are suggested for combinations to make up the other seven or eight periods, viz.: Latin 5, Spanish 5, drawing 4, manual training or domestic science 4, music 5, glee club 2, chorus 3, orchestra 2, typewriting 2, agriculture 2, hygiene 2.

The compulsory work for the eighth grade is quite similar but geography is omitted, algebra is combined with arithmetic and the study periods are 4 to 6, making a total of 26, 27 or 28 periods to be supplemented with elective work of 7, 8 or 9 periods. In this grade the same number of periods may be given to Latin, Spanish, drawing, music, glee club, orchestra and hygiene as in the lower grade, but domestic science is differentiated to provide for three periods of domestic art, 4 of cooking or 4 of sewing. Three periods of mechanical drawing are added, agriculture and typewriting are increased to 3 periods.

The circular letter explains that the algebra in the 8th grade is intended to be a brief course of about six weeks preparatory to High School algebra.

The only subjects mentioned in the proposed course not now taught are Latin, Spanish and typewriting.

With such liberty of choice the boy or girl with a decided bent in any given direction can specialize to some extent. Thus the boy of mechanical tastes can choose as his electives manual training and mechanical drawing, or if he has professional life in view can begin Latin, while the chap eager to get into business will probably want typewriting.

Under such conditions and responsibilities of choice students and parents will begin planning for the future. They will think of vocations and the special training they will need. Less time will be wasted in non-essentials.

A. J. Richardson, who operates the stage line from Sunland and other valley points, says his patrons are very much pleased over the increased service he is giving them. While the strike has given him some passengers who ordinarily patronize the P. E. in Glendale and other points through which he passes, he is not seeking that business as he has all he can conveniently manage from his regular stations.

TUJUNGA

A Home Comers Welcome will be held at Bolton Hall, under the auspices of the Federation for the boys who have returned from service, and whose homes were in the Monte Vista Valley. Refreshments will be served, and a fine program rendered. Everybody is invited to participate and have a good social evening. Strangers are invited to come and get acquainted with the people in the valley. Remember the time and place, Bolton Hall, September 3d, 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Minnie Martin and cousin were in Tujunga on Monday calling on friends here.

The total depravity of some boys is certainly appalling. One boy this week climbed into a fine acacia tree belonging to Mrs. Marsten on Sunset boulevard, girdled it near the top, then stripped the bark more than half way down the tree, utterly spoiling it. Such boys should be taken care of by the authorities if the parents are unable to control their wanton tricks. It takes too long to grow trees, and such tricks should not go unpunished.

Mrs. Cora E. Spaulding of Fort Worth, Texas, was a guest of Miss Zoe Gilbert last week for a few days.

Mrs. Vance of the Vance Working Boys' Club of Los Angeles is at the home of Miss Zoe Gilbert for a two weeks' vacation.

William H. Smythe, son of William H. Smythe who headed the Little Landers movement some years ago, was a caller in Tujunga last week.

Mr. Niemeyer's mother and brother from Eagle Rock were callers at his home on Michigan Highway on Tuesday.
